

A Moment with Donna...A Devil of a Story

It was announced that the devil was going out of business and would offer all his tools for sale to whoever would pay the price. On the night of the sale, they were all attractively displayed: Malice, Hatred, Envy, Jealousy, Sensuality, and Deceit among them. Each was marked with its own price.

To one side lay a harmless-looking, wedge-shaped tool, much worn, and priced higher than any of them.

Someone asked the devil what it was.

That's Discouragement," was the reply.

"Why do you have it priced so high?"

"Because," replied the devil, "it is more useful to me than any of the others. I can pry open and get inside a person's consciousness with that when I could never get near them with any of the others."

I came across this story recently and it brought back a memory of being in a competition in gym class and because of a fellow student's comment, I didn't fulfill my potential opportunity to win an endurance race. How many times have we not pursued our deepest desires because of being bad-mouthed, criticized, made fun of, and even told our brain power is less than a cockroach!? More than we truly would care to remember.

It is soooooo easy to drop a dream, to believe other people's perceptions about what it is that we wish to accomplish, to focus on the failures, instead of saying to ourselves, Hm,m,m,m, ,,maybe I should look at some other angles, get more information, check out resources, explore my options? Give up my dream? Never! I may have to redesign my direction, look at some new perspectives but I am going to go for what means the most to me. I can do it!!!

Over 30 years ago I made up some business cards and put the word author, along with other descriptions of what I wanted to do, on my card. A member of my family said, "You are not an author. You haven't published a book! That is false advertising!" Not only did I ignore them, but I said the following... "I have published articles in some magazines and I am an author. One day I will publish my children's stories as people have encouraged me to do." The individual then said, "Children's stories...what a stupid idea!" Guess what?! I am working towards my 4th publication of children's materials and there are others in the queue as well.

Sometimes the journey to achieve what you want is a long road with a lot of curves, making wrong turns, even getting lost for a period of time, however, if you keep your roadmap in front of you somehow the Universal GPS system eventually gets you to your determined destination.

To be totally honest the flat tire moments I could have done without as changing flat tires isn't one of my greatest strengths but one does what one has to do, including asking for help when needed.

*Discouragement...*to deprive one of courage, hope, confidence, dishearten, dispirit. Don't do that to yourself, nor let anyone else do it to you. We all, at any given time, can feel as if the world is against us, that we should give up and let our ship of dreams sink...that's not unusual. Do yourself a favor and put that ship of dreams on automatic pilot for a while until you can refocus on the direction you choose to follow. Then step up and be the captain of that ship of dreams, knowing you have the right of choice to choose the direction you know will be the right one for you.

Spring is here. The earth is alive with freshness of the season. Spring represents newness, growth, hope, and better yet...warmer weather! Step up to your opportunities and breathe life into those heartfelt aspirations/dreams...they are waiting to come alive just for you.

Have a fabulous month.

What's Your Story?

I am in the process of putting together a publication "Stories People Tell Me". I have had a number of submissions and I am looking for an additional 25 stories about paranormal experiences, UFO's, aura's and the unique and unusual not logical happenings that make us aware that life is anything but boring. Please send submissions to donnaseebo@comcast.net. Do send your contact information as well (phone number, etc.) Thank you.

Here's another test of your brain skills

We've seen this with the letters out of order, but this is the first time I've seen it with numbers.

Good example of a Brain Study: If you can read this OUT LOUD you have a strong mind. And better than that: Alzheimer's is a long long, way down the road before it ever gets anywhere near you.

Now, to my 'selected' strange-minded friends: If you can read the following paragraph, forward it on to your friends with 'yes' in the subject line. Only great minds can read this. This is weird, but interesting! If you can read this, you have a strange mind, too. Can you read this? Only 55 people out of 100 can. I don't believe that I could actually understand what I was reading. The phonetic pattern of the human mind, according to a research at Cambridge University, it doesn't matter in what order the letters in a word are, the only important thing is that the first and last letter be in the right place. The rest can be a total mess and you can still read it without a problem. This is because the human mind does not read every letter by itself, but the word as a whole. Amazing huh? Yeah and I always thought spelling was important! If you can read this forward it.

FORWARD ONLY IF YOU CAN READ IT. Submitted by B.G., California

"THE HAND"

A picture began circulating a few years ago. It should be "The Picture of the Year," or perhaps, "The Picture of the Decade." It won't be. In fact, unless you obtained a copy of the paper you probably will never see it. The picture is that of a 21-week-old unborn baby named Samuel Alexander Armas, who is being operated on by a surgeon named Joseph Bruner. The baby was diagnosed with spina bifida and would not survive if removed from the mother's womb.

Little Samuel's mother, Julie Armas, is an obstetrics nurse in Atlanta. She knew of Dr. Bruner's remarkable surgical procedure. Practicing at Vanderbilt University Medical Center in Nashville, he performs these special operations while the baby is still in the womb. In the procedure, a C-section removes the uterus and the doctor makes a small incision to operate on the baby. During the surgery on little Samuel, the little guy reached his tiny, but fully developed hand, through the incision and firmly grasped the surgeon's finger. The photograph captures this amazing event with perfect clarity.

The editors titled the picture, "Hand of Hope." The text explaining the picture begins, "The tiny hand of 21-week-old fetus Samuel Alexander Armas emerges from the mother's uterus to grasp the finger of Dr. Joseph Bruner as if thanking the doctor for the gift life." Also proving that a baby is a human being and not an "IT" to be aborted just because it hasn't left the mother's uterus.

The Recipe Box... Corned Beef Boxy

Ingredients: 2 cups mashed potatoes (leftovers are great for this recipe), Prepared Horseradish, Grated Idaho Potatoes, Milk, All-Purpose Flour, Salt and Pepper, Baking Powder, 3 Eggs, Corned Beef, chopped (10 ounces), Grated Swiss Cheese (10 ounces), 1,000 Island Dressing, optional

Directions: In a large bowl mix the mashed potatoes and horseradish. Grate 2 cups of Idaho potatoes (I leave the skin on), and dry them in a clean towel by squeezing out all the moisture. Add the dried grated potatoes into the bowl with the mashed potatoes. Stir in flour, baking powder, salt, pepper and mix well. In a small bowl, whisk together eggs and milk. Add the egg and milk into the potato mixture. Stir well to form a creamy, thick pancake batter consistency. Add oil to a large skillet and drop enough batter into the skillet to form a 6" pancake which is approximately 1/4" thick. Cook until browned on one side. Flip the pancake and cook on the second side until browned. Add the corned beef and Swiss cheese to half of the cooked pancake. Use a spatula to flip the plain half of the pancake over the filled half. Cover the skillet loosely with a lid or foil and cook until the cheese has melted.

Serve the Irish boxy hot, with 1000 island dressing for dipping if desired.
