

A Moment with Donna... Twinkles of Memory

There is a scene in the movie Miracle on 34th Street where a mom, looking quite stressed because she is trying to find skates for her child and the store is all sold out, is advised by Santa to go to another store...Hm,m,m,...seems to me there is a consistent patterning that prevails through the holiday season, even with the current situation we are experiencing. Christmas is very busy with hustle and bustle this year, however, I think Santa's helpers are not as readily available.

For me, I am a traditionalist, as the Thanksgiving weekend is always the time when I do the decorating for the Christmas season. Big green and red tubs are dragged out of their storage spaces and within five minutes my home looks like a hurricane of disorder has taken over. A total mish-mash of chaos slowly but surely changes, and order begins to prevail. Then there is the six-foot tree...biggest challenge with the tree? Lights! Somehow, every year, I deal with entanglement, properly linking cords to extensions and overall frustration with weaving everything into its right position. It is so easy to become impatient with the silliest things.

The best, and my most favorite part of all of this activity, is the decorating of the tree. Why? It is all about the rich memories of friends, family, and stories, and those various experiences shared through the years. There is the silver satin covered ball decorated with bright red ballet slippers, reminding me of the Nutcracker Ballet we attended in Oregon with very dear friends. A tall soldier nutcracker, dressed in his Navy blue uniform with gold trim, stands at attention with other nutcrackers on a side table, reminding me of visiting a local mall and the stores we went through before we found him and brought him home to be part of our holiday celebration. Then there are the angels. One especially has a place in my heart. This angel is over a foot high, exquisitely designed and she was gifted to me by a very special friend. An Italian creation, her magnificent garment is made of a fabric paper of gold and white, highlighted with delicate flowers and lace.

Twinkles of memories fill my mind and heart as I place each ornament on the tree. I'm reminded of our walking through the streets of Seattle, smelling the delicious fragrances of hot chocolate, coffee and roasted nuts sold by vendors on the street. We delighted in looking into the brightly decorated windows, while shivering in the cold with winds sometimes tickling us with the reminder that warmth and comfort awaits us inside the brightly illuminated stores all around.

So many holiday ornaments gifted by friends who have shared our holiday feasts, some who are no longer with us...these are the true gifts of this time of the year. Memories of the heart.

So...is it worth struggling with tangled cords, lugging out tubs of Christmas stuff, dealing with chaos? You bet! Why? Because those memories most dear come about because of sharing with friends & family. That even includes meal disasters, including my Yorkshire Pudding that came out like an oversized hockey puck one Christmas! That is a story to share another time.

Meanwhile, from my home to yours, I wish you and yours the most delightful and heartwarming holiday season. May your twinkles of memories enrich your spirit of love & beauty, making this season one of the best ever, and may your sharing of them add a special magic for those you love.

Merry Christmas and I look forward to meeting you in the New Year 2021.

December's Chuckle

As a little girl climbed onto Santa's lap, Santa asked the usual, "And what would you like for Christmas?"

The child stared at him open mouthed and horrified for a minute, then gasped: "Didn't you get my E-mail?"

The Recipe Box – Onion Jam

Submitted by L. Stoll

Looking for something fancy to put on your holiday cheeseboard? This recipe for easy onion jam is just the ticket. It's sweet, savory, comforting and downright delicious. The key is caramelizing the onions completely before adding fresh herbs and brown sugar to create an aromatic, sticky masterpiece. Finishing it with a dash of balsamic vinegar gives it just the right amount of zing and complexity.

One batch makes about two cups of jam, so grab a couple of half-pint mason jars to store the leftovers in. There are a ton of ways to enjoy it: Add it to goat cheese crostini, spoon it over steak, spread it onto a grilled cheese sandwich or include it in a killer charcuterie spread. We can see your dinner guests swooning already.

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons olive oil, 3 Vidalia onions, cut into strips, Salt and pepper to taste, 2 sprigs thyme, 2 sprigs rosemary, 1 sage leaf, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons balsamic or apple cider vinegar.

Directions: 1. Add oil to a large sauté pan. Once hot, add onions and stir to coat in oil. Stir until every piece is evenly coated, about 5 minutes. Don't worry if your pan is full—the onions will shrink. 2. Cook the onions, uncovered, over medium-high heat for 20 minutes until browned, stirring occasionally. (You want them to sit long enough to brown but not so long that they'll stick to the pan.) 3. Once the onions are totally brown and soft, add salt and pepper and stir. Reduce the heat to low and simmer 10 more minutes, stirring occasionally until onions are caramelized and cooked down. 4. Tie the thyme, rosemary and sage with kitchen twine. Add the bundle to the pan and combine, covering the herbs with the onions. Simmer until fragrant, about 3 to 5 minutes. 5. Cover the onions evenly with brown sugar. Let it sit and wait for the sugar to start melting, about 3 minutes. Then, stir to combine and let simmer until a bubbling caramel forms, about 5 minutes. 6. Stir in the vinegar. Simmer for 5 minutes more. 7. Remove the herbs and turn off the heat. Let the jam cool, then jar and refrigerate.

Golden Nuggets – True Stories About Real People

Wreaths Across America

Wreaths Across America will be honoring on December 19th, those who have served in the wars our country has been involved with since the founding of our nation. This program came about because of the actions of one man. Who he is, and what he continues to do, will inspire you and make you aware that the true American Spirit is strong and very much alive. His story, and the story of those who participate in this amazing process, needs to be shared with as many people as possible.

I will be interviewing on December 2nd, on my Warriors for Peace program, Karen Worster, the wife of the Morrill Worster, who started this amazing process in 1992. I hope you can join us for a most powerful conversation about how one man's idea sparked a revolution of attitude and action that has influenced tens of thousands of people.

Visit www.wreathscrossAmerica.org for more information on how you can support this wonderful event.

Special Comments

A special 'thank you' to the many people who join me weekdays to hear 'The Donna Seebo Show' and 'Warriors for Peace' from around the country and the world. Your emails, calls and wonderful letters make my day. It is always a joy to share the talents and information from people and other sources that can make our lives better. Should you have recipes, ideas and/or information you think my listeners might be interested in, please email the information to me. Due to the tremendous amount of material received, I cannot promise that I will use it on my show but I do review everything that is sent.

For authors who are interested in being interviewed on my program, please send a copy of your book/CD/DVD publication along with your press kit to the address noted below. All materials are reviewed for content and if accepted, you will be called to schedule a date for an interview. Currently my interviews are booked two to three months in advance. It is always advisable to follow up with a phone call to be sure that your materials are received by my office.

You are always welcome to share this newsletter and if you have someone who would like to be added to the subscriber list, just send his/her name and email address to donna@delphiinternational.com or donnaseebo@comcast.net.
